Executive Protection and Security Driving

Executive protection and security driving resources are essential to the mitigation of risks besetting celebrities and high-profile individuals in the media and entertainment industry today.

Andrews International (AI) provides executive protection and security driving services for diverse clients in locations around the world. Our Special Projects Group handpicks each protection professional to ensure the best cultural fit for the client's unique risk profile and personal circumstances.

Our protection professionals are experts in advance and logistics planning, threat assessment, crisis management, and emergency response. Equally important, they are specialists in security driving and secure transportation.

Statistics show that the vast majority of security incidents involving corporate executives and high-profile individuals occur while targeted individuals are in or around their vehicles. To prevent transportation from being a weak link in our personal security chain, we approach security driving and secure transportation as core to the discipline of executive protection. A primary component of training is instilling the reactive and proactive knowledge and skills that protection professionals need to ensure the safety and security of vehicle occupants.

For protection professionals with essential tactical training and skills, sensitivity, and discretion, you can trust Andrews International.
