

PHARMACEUTICAL

Solutions for a Safer World™

The pharmaceutical industry is one of the most diverse fields, encompassing research, manufacturing, distribution, and marketing, with a broad range of potential security vulnerabilities.

Pharmaceutical firms, their suppliers, and associated firms, have become a major target of theft, vandalism, property damage, product tampering, eco-terrorism, and litigation. An extremely professional level of security planning is required to effectively manage risk specific to the pharmaceutical environment.

Andrews International brings to its pharmaceutical industry clients an integrated, full-service approach to security that provides a range of prevention and protection services and a proven level of reliability to meet both the conventional and extended security needs of the field.

Andrews International's security service professionals provide its clients with comprehensive guidelines for security, focusing on threat assessments, situation analysis, and strategic planning to identify problems and issues before they arise.

In addition to offering uniformed security forces to bio-science and pharmaceutical companies, Andrews International also provides services specific to this industry in the following areas:

- Threat assessments, consulting and investigations
- Facilities protection
- Crisis management
- Emergency/unusual event response
- Intellectual property security for research and development activities
- Access control
- Fire prevention and life safety programs
- Investigation and protection against product tampering, counterfeiting, and diversion
- Protection of competitive research, production, product and marketing information
- Supply chain logistics security, including over-the-road escorts of drugs in transit
- Meeting and event security (past performance at approximately 1,000 events)
- Domestic and international executive protection
- Intervention in threats of workplace violence, kidnap and ransom
- Management of threats from animal-rights and other activist groups, including security during demonstrations and residential security
- Secure retrieval of company cars, computers, documents and drug samples from departing employees
